

Tobias Feldner was born in 1988 in Neumarkt (Oberpfalz, Germany). He visited the Willibald Gluck Gymnasium Neumarkt, where he obtained his Abitur in 2009. In 2012, he received his BSc degree in Chemistry at the University of Regensburg. His thesis, in the group of Dr. Amslinger, was titled "Synthesis of α -substituted Chalcones". In 2013, he completed the research internship "Photokatalytische Arylierungen" in the group of Prof. König, and "Synthesis, Characterization, Evaluation of a novel Formamidine based gelator" in the group of Prof. Díaz. In 2014 he obtained her MSc degree in Chemistry with the Thesis entitled: "Self-healing gel materials" under the supervision of Prof. Díaz. Besides chemistry his hobbies are music and sport.